

Rated R Policy

Children under the age of seventeen may check out an R-rated video only if a parent or adult guardian is present at the time of check out or has given the library written permission allowing minors to check out these materials. The library reserves the right to verify the age of anyone checking out R-rated movies by authenticating their age against a government-issued ID. The library uses the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA) rating system to determine if a video is R-rated.