

Meeting Space Policy and Procedure

The Highwood Library & Community Center (HLCC) regards the availability and use of its meeting spaces as an integral part of its service to the community. The HLCC makes its meeting spaces available for meetings and programs conducted by nonprofit groups on subjects of educational, civic or cultural interest. These spaces are available free of charge to nonprofit groups on an equitable first come, first-served basis regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use. Rooms can only be used for scheduled programs during regular library operating hours. All meetings and classes must be open to the public, free, and for the purpose of educational, civic, or cultural programming or public information. Two space types are available for the public to reserve: the Community Room and Meeting Room B.

Community Room:

Priority for use of the Community Room is given to HLCC-sponsored programs, then others consistent with the mission, in the following order:

- Library activities
- Activities jointly sponsored by the HLCC with other organizations
- Nonprofit organizations engaged in activities consistent with the HLCC's mission to help community residents meet their educational, personal, recreational and professional needs
- Educational, civic, cultural, and public information events presented by local government, community organizations and groups
- Town hall meetings of elected representatives of local, state, and national government
- Meetings and training programs of local governmental bodies

The Community Room may not be reserved for:

- Private social gatherings
- Religious services or proselytizing functions
- Private or political fundraising or money-making purposes by groups other than Library-related organizations
- Groups with any political affiliation

An application on the website must be submitted to use the Community Room. Please note that submitting an application DOES NOT guarantee approval or use of the room. HLCC personnel will do everything possible to facilitate the application process, and requestors will be notified of the decision as soon as possible, but no event will go on the calendar until a completed application form is approved. The Executive Director makes the final decisions regarding eligibility.
